

New fashion: Phenominoes

BY GANESH RAVICHANDRAN
Kidsday Reporter

Phenominoes are a line of 27 domino-like pendants that are fashionable and unusual.

They were designed by blind artists at the Art of Possibility Studios who express themselves through art, which is very cool.

On the front of the pendant is a painting, and on the back is a domino design. The various designs on the front include a coffee mug, different types of flowers and fireworks.

There is a design that fits every personality. The only negative aspect of the pendant is that it is $25 (on the Art of Possibility Studios Web site), which is a little pricey for a plastic pendant. The Art of Possibility Studios is a for-profit company that provides meaningful work for physically challenged artists. To find out more about the pendants and the artists, visit aopstudios.com/store_necklaces.php.

RATING

Ganesh Ravichandran
with Phenominoes

