EcoView Commercial transforms how electricity and other resources are conserved to save money and ease the impact on the environment. The system remotely monitors and controls the largest discretionary energy load in a small- to medium-sized commercial facility, the HVAC system, and other loads such as lighting, signage and more. Onsite, an interactive touch screen enables staff to adjust settings within limits established by the customer and Advanced Telemetry's support team. Dedicated account specialists create and manage settings and schedules on behalf of customers, monitoring systems for consumption and run-time anomalies and providing e-mail and phone support. Further, the EcoView online tool provides real-time and historical data on consumption, readings, settings and more.
