

DESIGN WISE

Check the wattage

If you need to replace a bulb in a string of Christmas lights, make sure the wattage rating of the replacement bulb you're using matches that of the light strand, warns Christina Hansen, product specialist at CableOrganizer.com. Using a bulb with too much high a wattage can cause the light string to overheat, creating a fire risk.

