

Delight or DOOM?

7 SIGNS YOU'VE FOUND THE 'RIGHT' MARRIAGE MATE

By Jacqueline Del Rosario,
America's Marriage Doctor

A wedding cake topper featuring a bride and groom figurine. The bride is standing in a white gown, and the groom is sitting in a black tuxedo. The cake is decorated with white frosting and red roses.

*Y*ou've invested a lot of time, effort and emotional energy in your relationship. Things are good, and you think you've found "the one" – that marriage-worthy person you're prepared to spend the rest of your life with, for better or for worse. But, before you say "I do" and turn this relationship into a life-long commitment, first determine if you and your mate are compatible in key areas proven to foster happy, healthy marriages that go the distance.