

TRAVEL GEAR

Luggage tags are handcrafted in Peru

Looking for something different to use as a luggage tag to help you find your bags as they come out of airport baggage claim?

Check out Jenny Krauss Designs' tags that are handmade in Peru. Triple layers of material reinforce the hand-stitched embroidery that adorns the back side of a clear acetate covered sleeve with identification card.

Each tag is unique in design and color according to the creative whim of the artist.

The tags, which measure 2.5 by 4.5 inches, can also be used as handbag or backpack charms. They sell for $12 and are available at www.harriet-andleo.com/tags.html.
