A pop culture kitty

When was the last time a plush-filled kitty took front and center on a sitcom? CBS' ratings-busting "The Big Bang Theory" featured an episode in which the character of Sheldon (Jim Parsons) teaches Penny (Kaley Cuoco) the lyrics to a song his mom sang him when he was sick. The song was (pardon the pun) infectious and became a fan favorite. The website Stylinonline.com turned "kitty" into a plush toy that plays the song when you squeeze a paw. You can also get the Soft Kitty T-shirt, which features the lyrics ($44.99-$47.99 for both for men and women; $29.99 for the plush toy alone); available at www.stylinonline.com.
