Robin Reed International

Robin Reed is one of the longest established cracker manufacturers, with founder Julian Reed having been in the business for more than 35 years. The company are now proud to say they sell worldwide from Australia to Norway. All crackers are traditionally made by hand and carefully crafted in with paper. This Christmas, the company's bestseller is understood to be the musical 'Handbell Crackers' (pictured). Each cracker contains a small hand bell which makes a different note. The set also comes complete with music sheets and badges, ensuring great fun as you make your own music around the dinner table. With one dinner table member nominated as conductor, the challenge is to follow the music sheet, ringing your bell at the right time to create a tune.

TweezLight International

New from innovative company TweezLight International is the unique and handy telescopic Christmas Tree Water-Scope, is ideal for all live tree using consumers.

The gadget provides a unique solution to keeping live Christmas trees fresh in the household for the duration of the festive period. The telescope runs from the tree branches right down to the where the water is needed. A cleverly disguised water ornament looks like a tree decoration but opens to allow easy pouring from a comfortable height, with the telescopic tubes directing the water down to the tree, meaning no need to crawl under the tree, move presents and disrupt the display.

The removable ornament appears to be decorative yet is highly functional. It is available in eight different colours according to the colour scheme in festive decorations. Top cover ornaments are removable and new shapes, colours, textures and finishes will be available year on year for consumer's selection.

Water-Scope is available in two styles and is offered from China factory direct to the UK or EU distributors, wholesalers, dealers and retailers. The company are able to provide customized packaging, colours and for all special OEM needs.
