SO LUXE

BY MERILEE KERN

SOUND CHECK

Haute home theater system offers the ultimate expression of sound

Those who take their sound seriously should consider the Klipsch Palladium P-39F series speakers—a $31,500 home theater sound system offering unsurpassed audio quality and precision. Indeed, the flawless acoustics and dynamics of this state-of-the-art system are unrivaled in the industry today.

Music and sound are all about the details, from the soft notes, the easy crescendo, the loud staccato and other nuances. The Klipsch Palladium P-39F system has an immersive effect, allowing listeners to not just hear, but feel, the music, no matter the genre—from loud rock to a classical symphony.

While each component may be purchased separately, the entire Palladium P-39F home theater system comes complete with two floor-standing speakers, one center channel speaker, two surround speakers and one subwoofer.

The system is offered in three exotic zebra-grain veneer finishes that blend perfectly with, and even elevate, any interior design. The sophisticated dark espresso finish is refined and classy, while the vibrant merlot is bold and sassy. A contemporary, clean natural finish is also available to match any décor. These are not speakers meant to be tucked away, but rather displayed proudly, front and center.

Bearing a sophisticated, modern design, incomparable craftsmanship, and proprietary new horn technology, this Palladium P-39F home theater system is more than the ultimate expression of Klipsch sound.

TOYS

Bearing a sophisticated, modern design, incomparable craftsmanship and proprietary new horn technology, this Palladium P-39F home theater system is more than the ultimate expression of Klipsch sound. It is the triumph of passion over the impossible. It's entertainment elevated.
