

Special Project
Combining style with substance, the Project Iris clothing line features a variety of short- and long-sleeved shirts made from incredibly soft burnout fabric and ringspun cotton. Each shirt is adorned with original artwork, like Lotus Watercolor, Sunset and Dandelions. What's more, a portion of each sale is donated to the World Food Program USA to help fight hunger worldwide and provide nourishing meals for new mothers and their children in the most poverty-stricken parts of the world. projectirisclothing.com
